NEWS OF THE VICINITY

A lot of interesting local and other news is crowded out this week to make room for commissioners' proceedings.

Pay Doc Linsley what you owe him; he needs the money.

Ed Hibbs lost a fine mare one night last week. The animal got tangled in a picket rope and broke her neck.

We've got the grip—got it bad. If you think this paper isn't interesting, just come in and kick about it and we will make it interesting for you.

Alden Meeker will preach at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock immediately following Sunday School. Subject: "The Place of the Skill."

Uncle John Sinclair of Lockwood was in the city Tuesday on business and gave this office a short call. Uncle John was the first white man to bring his family to old No. Mans Land, now Beaver County.

Don't forget that bill that you owe Doc Linsley. He needs the money.

Notice to Teachers.
There will be a public examination of applicants for certificates to be held at the county superintendent's office in Beaver on January 27 and 28, 1863.

T. L. FLOYD, Co. Supt.

A. H. Laverty of Cline was a welcome visitor at this office last Thursday. We tried to pump some local news out of him but he declared that everybody in that neighborhood was attending strictly to their own business and nothing of a startling nature was occurring.

Sheriff Sugrue has been notified to hold E. Otto here pending the decision of the Supreme court on the appeal taken from Judge Price's court. The Supreme court fixes Otto's bond at $3000 to be approved by the Sheriff of the county.—Ashland Clipper.

The Methodists begin a protracted meeting at the Presbyterian Church tonight to be conducted by Alden Meeker.

All are invited to attend. The song services are expected to be full of life and spirit and the preaching to contain the truths of God's word. Some of the themes to be discussed are: "Our Relation to Christ," "Our Relation to God," "Conditions of Salvation," "The Holy Ghost and His work," "Baptism," "Church Membership."

Notice

All accounts on my books up to January 1st are now due and must be paid at once.

J. R. LINLEY.

We want a correspondent at each post office in the country, and will furnish paper, envelopes and stamp, and give a copy of the HERALD to any one who undertakes to send the news items weekly. These letters from correspondents are interesting to people everywhere, and greatly benefit the neighborhoods from which they come. There are a number of old reliable correspondents who, we hope, will continue to send us the news. Drop a letter to THE HERALD if you want paper and stamp for this service.

Memorial Service

At the Presbyterian Church Sunday Jan. 22nd at 11 A.M. in honor of the brave men who fought, bled and died for humanity and God in the Spanish-American War. All are invited to attend. Bring your pocket books and contribute to the building of a monument to their memory.

George Theis Jr. was "Gilted" last week by a man named Johnston who came in here and purchased some cattle from Mr. Theis giving a draft for $3000 on a bank, in payment, which was protested and Johnston skipped for parts unknown and has not been heard from. Johnston lives at Paola and has a good reputation, the bank there vouching for him; but he evidently found himself cramped and it touched his sensibilities and he determined to flee. His standing with Mr. Theis was such that had he predetermined to skip he could as easily have bought $10,000 worth of cattle as $3,000, and any of our cattlemen would have accepted Johnson's check for thousands. Of course Mr. Theis doesn't enjoy the loss to any appreciable extent, but he is probably as able to be "Gilted" as any man in the county, and he should be thankful that he can get such a lesson for only $3,000.

BENTON BICKERINGS.

Mr. Fisher and daughter, Mrs. Tift, returned from Beaver Thursday. John Savage and P. A. Craig started for Woodward Tuesday.

J. W. Fox is preparing to move his family to Beaver. He will leave his ranch in charge of Mr. Harry McCool.

Ed Perkins has been quite sick of late with something like LaGrippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff, daughter and son-in-law of J. Perkins, are visiting in these parts.

Deputy Sheriff McCool was in our vicinity recently attending to official business.

There will be a dance at the residence of Mr. John Savage, of Benton, on Friday night the thirteenth. Every one cordially invited.

Our Postmaster and merchant is getting to be quite a pugilist. He licked three postage stamps the other day.

Cattle are beginning to look better since the cold weather is over.

Mrs. Fox, who has been quite sick for the past six weeks, is improving.

Dr. D. E. N. Strong, the Boston merchant and Doctor, is stocking up.

House wife will be pleased to learn that one of Benton's dashing young bachelors has originated a new cake recipe which is as follows: Take two yeast cakes and mix in one pint of water, let stand over night then drain off the water and use for milk. Mix one cup of flour and 1/2 cup of sugar with aforesaid milk and beat until stiff and bake in hot oven.

A Fable.

[From Adobe Wall, Texas, to the Kansas City Journal.]

Once there were certain Money Lenders who all dwelt together in one large house. In those days there were many Shepherds and Tillers of the soil whose wealth was mainly in their flocks and herds.

In the Springtime, before grass came and in the Autumn, when the cold winds blew, these Shepherds and Tillers of the soil came to the Money Lenders and said: "Let us some of your ducats for surety, that we may buy more cows, and cows to feed them, and we will give you a pledge of all we have." To some who could make pleasant speech, and who would give the Money Lenders much of a certain confection called Taffy, they gave bread and brought forth their ducats in great abundance.

Others, who were more ill-tempered or of a stammering tongue, they answered roughly, notwithstanding they offered the Money Lenders usury and pledges, even more cattle than their neighbors.

But the Money Lenders laughed them to scorn and said, "Are we asses?"

So when these things had gone on many days, one Shepherd, more crafty than the others, seeing that the Money Lenders were more easily taken in with Gall and Show than security, said;

"Go to, now, I will show them a trick."

So he went out and gathered together those who had skill in playing on instruments of music, and clothed them all in shining garments.

Then, in course of time, he caused his band of musicians to parade and play before the house of the Money Lenders.

Then, while the Money Lenders were listening and giving great attention to the music, he caused his relatives to go craftily behind the house of the Money Lenders and, speedily entering their rooms, made off with all their money.

Then this Shepherd whose craft was so great, speedily got himself and the ducats away to a far country and said;

"Yes, they were asses."

ASR.

We notice that some of the newspapers in the east end of the territory are worried over the rumor that Guthrie is working up some sort of a scheme to be made the permanent capital when the territory becomes a state. No doubt those Guthrieites would do this if they could, but we can't see how they can do it. A statehood proposition which gives the people no chance for a capitol except at Guthrie would fall flat.

The people want statehood pretty bad but not bad enough to accept it with Guthrie as the fixed capitol.
